President's Report

We are now approaching the mid-point of the season and generally we are going well. We have won most of our matches, attendance at training is high and we have had good spectator support.

I thank all players, coaches, managers and supporters for your efforts to date.

I am, however, disappointed with the attitude of some members. There is unfortunately a group of people who feel they can decide if and when they train, if and when they pay their fees and if and when they bother to show up to play. This is not fair to the majority of the members who are working hard. We need the help of everyone if we are going to be successful as a club. So for your own success and for all of us to achieve our goals I ask you to please encourage those who are not doing their share to not let the rest of us down.

Thank you and good luck.

1sts v University

FIRST GRADE looked determined to lose to University, combining an aimless game plan with a wooden backline attack. It took Uni three minutes to post their first points, kicking the first of many, many penalties from whistle-happy ref John Hill. Flyhalf Matt Sefton equalised for Perth-Bayswater with his first penalty after ten minutes, and a further ten minutes down the track Uni scored a try, coming off the back of a blatantly wheeled scrum close to the Perth-Bayswater line. The conversion and a string of penalties served up by the obliging Mr Hill were wasted on Uni as their kicker steadfastly refused to penetrate the posts. Matt Sefton had no such worries, kicking his second penalty for Perth-Bayswater ten minutes before the break, but Uni were soon back on attack, hammering the Perth-Bayswater line with a series of charges and finally cutting through the defence on the blind for a try behind the posts. Even the Uni kicker couldn't miss this one, giving them a 15-6 half time lead and to all appearances an armchair ride to an easy win. But Perth-Bayswater stuck to their task in the second half and aided by lots of lineout ball and some solid running in close from the forwards they worked themselves back into the game. The trusty boot of Matt Sefton helped the scoreboard along with a third penalty after ten minutes, followed by a try to big number eight Mike Johnston from a charged down kick 15 minutes later. Matt converted and suddenly Perth-Bayswater were one point clear at 16-15. With their scrums going backwards and not the slightest sign of penetration from the backs it seemed unlikely Perth-Bayswater could hold their lead for long and five minutes later Uni finally received a penalty their goal kicking hooker could convert, restoring them the lead 18-16. Perth-Bayswater worked their way back towards the Uni goal line and in the final stages were rewarded with yet another penalty. Matt

Sefton obliged and Perth-Bayswater were steady in the remaining few minutes to hold on for an unlikely but gratifying one point win, 19-18.

1sts v Western Suburbs

FIRST GRADE looked a much sharper unit in their 24-19 defeat of Western Suburbs, but it was the classic match of two halves as Wests came close to stealing the game. Perth-Bayswater were solid in the forwards and pleasingly inventive in the backs. The back line of Matt Tainui, Matt Sefton, Danny Whitney, Fulton Parakuka, Bronson Te Aute, Sean Baker and particularly fullback Garry Rutene looked switched-on and positive in the first half. The first try came after only two minutes, when lock Ken "Porridge" Angus stormed up the centre of the field before passing out to the backs where a clever switch sent centre Fulton Parakuka over for a try. Flyhalf Matt Sefton converted for a sudden 7-0 lead. It was half an hour before the next score when Wests ran the length of the field to one corner before spinning the ball out along the back line to score a dashing try in the opposite corner. A penalty to Matt Sefton kept Perth-Bayswater safely ahead at 10-5 and just before half time Garry Rutene seized an intercept on his own goal line and sprinted the length of the field to score under the posts. Matt Sefton converted for a 17-5 score at half time. Shortly after half time openside flanker Darren Murphy, who had an excellent game, scooped up loose ball near the try line to dive over for a try. Matt Sefton bounced the conversion off the crossbar and into the money side of the posts for a healthy 24-5 lead. Following this, Perth-Bayswater went into defensive mode and Wests enjoyed a lengthy period of attack, finally leading to a try and conversion to close the gap to 24-12. Wests continued to dominate and pin Perth-Bayswater in their own half. A series of mistakes did not help the Perth-Bayswater cause and Wests continued to increase the pressure. A tap penalty gave one of Wests' forwards the opportunity to drive over for a simple converted try with some ten minutes on the clock, and only desperate defence from Perth-Bayswater kept the rampant Wests' attack at bay, to hold on for a 24-19 win. Coach Jamie Hohapata praised the more experienced players in the team for leading by example and said he would be looking for an 80 minute effort from the team. He named prop Tom Hughes man of the match. Ref Peter Hilgendorf had a good game with the whistle.

Rugby

1sts v Associates

FIRST GRADE lost to Associates 30-7 in a close and strongly contested game. A lucky try and some pedantic whistling by ref Henry Egan around the breakdown blew the score out, but Perth-Bayswater remained fiercely combative throughout the game and physically dominated their bigger opponents. Perth-Bayswater missed the accurate boot of injured flyhalf Matt Sefton, out with an ankle tendon injury, missing some early shots and late in the game opting for tap penalties. Associates scored ten minutes into the game with a penalty kick and added a second twelve minutes later. Soaks scored a converted try on the half hour and kicked a further penalty close to half time to lead 16-0 at the break. Although Perth-Bayswater were fiercely combative and repeatedly rocked the opposition with uncompromising body commitment, a slow and wooden back line and a high error count prevented any scoring of their own. The only event to bring Perth-Bayswater supporters to their feet in the first half was a bullocking charge by prop Thomas Hughes that sideswiped a Soaks loosie and left him lying on the ground like road kill. Perth-Bayswater picked up the tempo in the second half with savage defence and strong forward work that held Soaks scoreless for half an hour. In the later stages Perth-Bayswater made some fast breaks out wide but could not finish. In the last fifteen minutes blindside flanker Darren Murphy stole a Soaks pass and passed in to halfback Matt Tainui who sprinted 50 metres to score under the posts. Wing Sean Baker converted. At 16-7 a faint hope remained but Associates stole two late soft tries, the second from a very lucky bounce, to win 30-7. Nevertheless coach Jamie Hohapata was encouraged by his young side's performance and said they would work on gaining confidence and developing more imagination in attack. Man of the Match was flanker Mel Heremia.

1sts v Nedlands

The perfect autumn weather did not inspire FIRST GRADE who looked as if they expected to lose and were going through the motions of playing the defending premiers before getting on with the rest of the competition. Admittedly they competed well for the first twenty minutes although Nedlands had virtually all the possession and territory. At this point Nedlands scored a clever try scooting around the front of the lineout, and followed with three others, including an intercept try, and a conversion for a half time lead of 22-0. Any pretence of a match was abandoned thereafter as Nedlands ran through, around and over a plodding Perth-Bayswater team for a huge 62-0 win. Nedlands continue on their merry, one-sided way to yet another premiership and it seems as though the only real interest in the competition is who will come second. Yawn.

2nds v University

SECOND GRADE's only difficulty in despatching Uni was maintaining enough concentration to continue their first half demolition job throughout the second half. Seconds spent virtually the entire first half camped in Uni territory, kicking a penalty goal to flyhalf Jason Jerry before scoring a try to storming wing Stephen Nicholson, who ran around the Uni defence to cross in the corner and touch down behind the posts. Jason Jerry converted for a 10-0 lead. Recently arrived lock Darian Hildreth not only reigned supreme in the lineouts, regardless of who was throwing in, but also scored after 20 minutes charging through the Uni defence from a lineout for a try. Shortly after flanker Solomon Sylva sliced through again and ran virtually from half way to score. Jason Jerry converted both for a good looking 24-0 half time lead. Uni broke the shackles in the second half and enjoyed a long period of attack, rewarded with a try after ten minutes. It wasn't until the final quarter that ball stolen from a Uni lineout went along the backline for a classic corner try to wing Thomas Ngawaka, converted by Jason Jerry for a 31-5 win. Coach Dave Proctor succinctly described the game as "a good win" and named Jason Jerry man of the match.

2nds v Western Suburbs

SECOND GRADE started slowly before cruising to a 21-12 win. Flyhalf Jason Jerry kicked a penalty after ten minutes but it was all Wests in the opening stages. It was half an hour until the next score when openside flanker Richard Anderson scored a try in one of Seconds' rare forays into Wests' territory for an 8-0 lead at half time. Immediately after half time Wests narrowed the gap with a converted try from a tap penalty but Seconds replied immediately with a try to inside centre Shane Proctor to lead 13-7. Tony Sproule almost scored soon after with a kick ahead and chase but he spilled the ball forward picking it up on the try line. Jason Jerry added another penalty when a Wests' player handled the ball on the ground to go ahead 16-7, and late in the half front rower Andy Moorhouse scored the team's third try for a 21-7 lead. Western Suburbs had the last word with a try just before full time but the game was Perth's, 21-12. Coach Dave Proctor said the team was improving with the forwards showing increasing perseverance and the backs finishing well. Man of the Match was lock Nick Pomare.

2nds v Associates

SECOND GRADE suffered a close, late loss to Associates, 8-6, after leading for the entire match. Seconds led 3-0 at half time with a Jason Jerry penalty. Jason added a second penalty in the second half to a penalty to Soaks but a try to Soaks right on full time stole the game for them. Coach Dave Proctor lamented that the team failed to finish off and warned the team that they could not expect results with low training turnouts. He noted that it was the first loss of the season and he expected better things next week against Nedlands. Man of the Match was hooker Peter Gualter.

2nds v Nedlands

SECOND GRADE lost to Nedlands 19-8 in a much closer game where Perth-Bayswater had plenty of scoring opportunities but couldn't get in the money. Nedlands opened with a converted try and scored a second after 30 minutes on a counter-attack after seconds had been close to scoring themselves. A sole penalty kick to flyhalf Jason Jerry set the half time score at 12-3. A try in the corner to Matt the number 8 just after half time brought seconds close at 12-8 but shortly after Nedlands replied with a converted try to take them ahead 19-8 which remained the final score.

3rds v University

THIRD GRADE were lucky to come away with an 11-11 draw, according to coach Barry Guzder. It was a lacklustre display, particularly from the forwards, who were in reverse gear most of the day and suffered in the lineouts, while the backs held the game together. Thirds led 6-3 at half time with two penalties to inside centre Nathan Haturini and scored a try right on full time, to halfback Troy Morgan. They were unable to add the conversion and had to settle for the draw, 11-11. Man of the Match was Keith Gualter and fullback Phill Granger was also worthy of note.

3rds v Western Suburbs

THIRD GRADE suffered a close loss to Western Suburbs, 8-6. Inside centre Nathan Haturini kicked two penalties in the first half to lead 6-3 over a single Wests' penalty, but Wests scored a late try to steal the game. Thirds had their opportunities but wasted them, suffering from poor ball retention and too much aimless chatter on the field. On the positive side, Thirds' defence was excellent conceding just the one try to Wests' much bigger forward pack. Man of the Match was fullback Leon Bettson who showed a cool head under pressure.

3rds v Associates

THIRD GRADE enjoyed a comprehensive 24-0 win over Associates in a game "very happy" coach Barry Guzder described as the most flawless game of third grade he had ever seen. Tries were scored by fullback Leon Bettson, wing Matt Wilmott, and prop Hayden Tamehana. Flyhalf Nathan Haturini kicked two penalties and two conversions. The whole team played well with almost no mistakes. Outstanding players were flankers Tony Ancell and Conrad Kovacs, Leon Bettson and centre Eddie Steinman. Man of the Match was massive prop Hayden Tamehana who put in some huge charges.

3rds v Nedlands

THIRD GRADE coach Barry Guzder labelled this game "the one that got away" and lamented a slow start with some bad mistakes that gifted Neddies a 17-0 half time lead. Thirds dominated the second half even with 14 players as one player was sent off for retaliating when those big, brave Neddies boys pulled his dreadlocks. Halfback Troy Morgan scored a try and Mike Blair scored a try while Nedlands scored a further 12 points to win 29-10. The whole team played "like madmen" to try and make up the deficit but Man of the Match was lock Jason Bastaja.

4ths v University

FOURTH GRADE scored their second consecutive win without so much as running onto the field, when Uni forfeited the game.

4ths v Western Suburbs

FOURTH GRADE drew 19-19 in their first real game of the season with a fierce Western Suburbs team. Coach John Reti was impressed with the game and said it was hard up front and equally savage in the backs. Wests' got away to an early lead but Fourths caught them late in the piece and almost took the game. JT Thompson scored the first try for Fourths, powering over from a lineout and the second went to inside centre J Huna. A late try was scored by wing Jason Sneesby and flyhalf Steve Wharerau kicked two conversions. Man of the Match was lock Jerry Bastaja, with special thanks to colts prop Lucas Capper for filling in with distinction.

4ths v Associates

FOURTH GRADE repeated last year's grand final with a good 10-5 win over Soaks 4ths, despite an almost totally new team and a high number of young players. Coach John Reti described it as a good game with exceptionally good defence in the backs. Although the team gave away some lineout ball their ferocious backs attack kept them ahead, with a try to halfback Hase Moore and a conversion and penalty to sprightly young fullback Mike Jones. Man of the Match was Hase Moore.

4ths v Nedlands

John Reti's FOURTH GRADE prevented the whitewash and added to their increasingly impressive record with a good 32-12 win over Neddies. Both sides played well with the forwards competing well, led by the old warrior,

Rugby

John Reti, at prop. The backs showed great ability and scored three of the four tries. Man of the Match was young lock Josh Fink and the referee also earned the coach's commendation.

5ths v University

FIFTH GRADE ran away with a big 34-0 win over Uni scoring 5 tries to none. Tries went to club coach and lock, Alan Hill, who had a magnificent game covering huge amounts of ground. Other tries went to dirty great constable Darren Horne, the Flying Chilly Bin Noel Spittal and Phil Hampton. Phil's try was scored after an heroic 70m dash, while Noel scored his after receiving a pass from halfback and master coach Mike Jones on the 22, fending off his opposite number with sublime ease to leave him sprawling in the dirt and bursting down the sideline with immense grace, speed and poise. I know that's true because Noel said it was. Flyhalf Goose kicked three conversions and a penalty. Goose again complained that Noel had scored in the corner instead of going around behind the posts and Noel wanted to know if Goose would like him to take the kick as well? It was 19-0 at half time to the fabulous Perth-Bayswater unit. John Reti again tried to plead his case for a game at fullback but after ten terrible minutes he was dragged back into the forwards and flanker Craig Robertson carried out the fullback duties for the remainder of the game. Man of the Match was Phil Hampton.

5ths v Western Suburbs

FABULOUS FIFTHS continued their top-of-the-table heroics with an inspiring 20-0 win over Wests' traditionally strong geriatrics. Tries went to new flanker Matt and fullback Troy Morgan. Deadeye flyhalf Goose added two conversions and two penalties from all angles (and may we say what a pleasure it is not having to watch Mike Jones' feeble attempts at goal kicks any more) although Goose did manage to miss a sitter from right in front, claiming it was "too easy". Lord of the Lineout, Wayne "Japie" Campbell again aided the team cause with his unsolicited comments by way of helping the referee with some of his more difficult decisions, while halfback Mike Jones' performance behind the pack was described as turning the team into "a well greased, oiled and lubricated machine", although it sounds more like a Greek orgy. Good to see legend Mike Allatt, the Michelangelo of Bedford, return to the team and commiserations to slim, boyish Noel Spittal, father of 9, for his split lip requiring three stitches. Lance Annan also left the field with a ligament injury, which caused some depression as wife Shona had him on a promise if he scored a try (but that's in confidence so don't tell anyone). Fifths led 7-0 at half time and the win was modestly described by Welsh coaching wizard Mike Jones as an "emphatic victory". Man of the Match was legendary lock and club coach Alan Hill.

5ths v Associates

A dazzlingly brilliant FIFTH GRADE effort gave them a landslide 41-0 win over a Soaks side so confident they sang their silly song before the game has even started. A try to the Brightwater Bar-fridge, Noel Spittal, kept his average up and a second try was scored by flanker Phil Hampton from 75 metres out. Prop Alan Tubs Thomas was awarded a try by the generous referee although the pass was forward and he dropped it over the line, illustrating the hazards of involving props in general play. Although obviously suffering the effects of his recent marriage to the lovely Dianne, centre Steve Weed Scholes managed to summon up enough strength to score a try. A further try went to Ian Hogg and the last word came from hooker Andy Fitzpatrick Keen, scoring a try loitering on the wing. Sharpshooting flyhalf Goose could manage a mere 3 conversions from this unseemly haul but blamed it on the new kicking tee. Man of the Match was dirty great constable Darren Horne.

Rugby

The expected top-of-the-table FIFTH GRADE clash did not eventuate as once again the team suddenly found itself scratching for players on the day, including key backs, after enjoying a playing complement on paper of some twentytwo players on Thursday night. You can guarantee at the next easy home game all these players will suddenly and coincidentally find themselves available. As a result, the forwards had the edge on Neddies team of former all-stars, but did not translate into points. The scrums were strong and the lineouts went particularly well and even stole some Neddies ball. Neddies scored most of their points in the first half and although Filthy Fifths enjoyed a long period of territorial advantage, no points resulted. Moments of note included Noel Spittal's heroic length of the field dash to catch a runaway Nedland's player and prevent a certain try, and Goose's sole try for the game when the ball bounced off the posts. The final result was a 36-5 win to Nedlands but that score did not reflect the run of play. Man of the Match was Wayne Japie Campbell who managed to get through an entire game without abusing the opposition or the referee.

Colts v University

Colts recorded a close and disappointing loss, 7-6, conceding a last minute try. The forwards dominated with some exceptional work and the team was leading 6-0 in the final minutes through two penalties to Michael Whitney when over-confidence got the better of them and they conceded an unfortunate late try and conversion to fall at the final hurdle, 7-6. Coach Darrel Taylor said that nonetheless it was a great effort and he named fullback Ben Taylor as best back, and Aaron Johnson as best forward and Man of the Match.

Colts v Western Suburbs

In a total reverse of last week's game, Colts came from behind to snatch an audacious win and defeat Wests 10-8. The forwards performed well and secured any number of tightheads, with a special mention for prop Lucas Capper in his debut for the team. The team was well led by lock Junior Tara, who earned a commendation from the ref for his leadership. Colts were 8-3 down at half time with a Michael Whitney penalty but flanker Gareth Cherrington scored a try right on full time to draw the game. Flyhalf Michael Whitney coolly kicked the conversion to steal the game 10-8, immediately followed by the final whistle. The backs defended well and noteworthy displays came from halfback Mark Hill, flyhalf Michael Whitney and fullback Ben Taylor. Best back was wing Dylan Davies and best forward on a day when all the forwards were outstanding was Tim McLoughlin, who was also named Man of the Match. Coach Darrell Taylor rounded off his comments by noting the value of never giving up on a game until the final whistle.

Colts v Associates

COLTS continued their run of last-minute results with a late try to grab a 12-10 win off Soaks. The game started slowly for colts, with indecision evident in both forwards and backs but as the game developed colts found new resolve and some good forward drives and a healthy share of possession resulted. Soaks led 5-0 at half time from a single try but a powerful forward drive after half time put halfback Mark Hill over for a try. Soaks replied with a second try halfway through the second spell and it was not until right on full time that another strong forward drive again saw Mark Hill touch down to equalise. Flyhalf Michael Whitney again kicked the winning conversion followed immediately by the full time whistle. Coach Darrel Taylor said the team had taken to heart their new motto, "never give up", and named lock Tim McLoughlin best forward, and Mark Hill best back and Man of the Match.

Colts v Nedlands

COLTS suffered a close 17-13 loss to Nedlands with a disastrous start that saw them 12-0 down after ten minutes. They played well and worked hard throughout the game to recover from this deficit but in the end it proved too much of a handicap. A try to halfback Mark Hill, a penalty and a conversion to wing Steve Evans and a penalty to fullback Mike Whitney saw colts take the lead 13-12 but a final try to Nedlands in the final minutes gave Neddies the game 17-13. Coach Darrell Taylor moved Ben Taylor to flyhalf and Michael Whitney to fullback for this game with impressive results. Both wings were also noteworthy with Elijah pulling off some stunning tackles and Steve Evans playing well and kicking goals before leaving the field with a broken collarbone. The reshuffled backline was excellent, and welcome back Charlie at centre. The best forward was prop Lucas Capper and the best back and Man of the Match was Steve Evans.

Women v Nedlands

WOMEN suffered a loss to Nedlands (45 - 3) in the kick off to their season. The game was filled with some hard hits by both sides, showing that Perth was never going to let this game be a total walk over. The girls put up a real fight, even including the biting coming from the opposition, and never looked like backing down. Michele Matthews took some good runaways although lacking in back up most of the times, whilst Bronwyn and Ang gave a couple of big tackles to the opposing players. Coach Darryn Pomare was quite happy with the way the team played. Perth-Bayswater's points came from a single penalty goal to Cherie Paku.

Fifth Grade: Ballajura Mobile Auto Electrics (Wayne Campbell)

Colts: Te Aute Fencing (Mike and Rangimaria Te Aute)

The clubrooms are looking better and better as two working bees have cleaned and painted various parts of the building with impressive results. There is a new floor in the kitchen, vastly improving its appearance.

The club is acquiring an ABN number in preparation for the GST. Committee members have attended GST seminars and the committee is planning how the club will deal with GST issues.

Thanks to Graham "Grumpy" McCall who has once again risen to the challenge and taken on the manager's position with first grade.

Thanks to Leon Bettson who has donated ten tackle suits to the club.

Two clubs have requested night games but these have been declined as the committee feels the level of lighting currently available in Perth rugby is not sufficient to guarantee the safety of the players.

Thanks to Darrel Taylor for supplying and installing a new sound system for the club, replacing the club's ailing PA equipment. Further improvements are planned, with new large portable speakers and a radio mike for more flexibility with presentations etc.

The Sin Bin

Three Australians are in a pub and they spot a bloke in a New Zealand jumper leaning on the bar. One of the Australians walks over to the New Zealander, taps him on the shoulder, and says, "Hey, I hear your Jonah Lomu is as thick as stack of wet 4x2s."

"Oh really, hmm, didn't know that," says the Kiwi.

Puzzled, the Australian walks back to his buddies and says, "I told him Jonah Lomu is thick, and he didn't care."

The second Australian says, "You just don't know how to wind him up ... watch and learn."

So the second Australian walks over to the New Zealander, taps him on the shoulder and says, "Hey, I hear your Jonah Lomu is a great big poofter!"

"Oh really, hmm, didn't know that," says the Kiwi.

Perplexed, the Aussie walks back to his mates, and says "that guy really doesn't care."

The third Australian remarks, "You guys are pathetic ... watch an expert in action."

So the third Australian walks over to the New Zealander, taps him on the shoulder and says, "Hey, I hear your Jonah Lomu is an AUSTRALIAN!"

The Kiwi nods. "Yeah, that's what your mates over there tells me."

Congatulations to Steve Scholes and Dianne Deans on their recent wedding. Another true romance with Perth-Bayswater.

A woman decides her breasts are too small and she goes to a plastic surgeon to have breast implants. The surgeon tells her it will cost $5000 so she goes home to ask her husband for the money. "$5000!," exclaims the man, "Bloody hell! Why don't you just rub toliet paper over your tits!"

"Rub toilet paper over them?" says the woman in puzzled tone, "How will that make them bigger?" The man replies,

"It worked for your arse, didn't it?"

Good luck to young Joel McIvor, who has gone across the Tasman to New Zealand for six months to experience winter in Dunedin and find out just how much better New Zealand sheep really are. And he'll probably be playing some proper rugby as well. He'll be coming back for summer to thaw out.

Three women enter a competition to swim breaststroke across the English channel. On the day of the big race the three enter the water at Dover and off they go. Hours later a huge crowd is on hand in Calais to greet the winner, as the brunette and then the redhead emerge dripping from the sea. Time passes and as darkness falls only the worried race officials remain as the blonde crawls, exhausted, from the water.

"I don't want you to think I'm a sore loser," she gasps, "But I suspect those other two girls were using their arms!"

If the dove is the bird of peace, what's the bid of true love?

— The swallow.

On a beautiful deserted island in the middle of the Pacific Ocean, 33 people are standed, two men and a woman from each of the following nationalities: Italian, French, German, Greek, English, Polish, Japanese, American, Australian, New Zealander and Irish.

One month later...

- one Italian man has killed the other Italian man for the Italian woman.
- the two French men and the French woman are living happily together having loads of sex.
- the two German men have a strict weekly schedule as to when they alternate with the German woman.
- the two Greek men are sleeping with each other and the Greek woman is cleaning and cooking for them.
- the two Englishmen are waiting for someone to introduce them to the English woman.
- the Polish men took a long look at the endless ocean and one look at the Polish woman and they started swimming.
- the two American men are contemplating the virtues of suicide, while the American woman keeps on bitching about her body being her own, the true nature of feminism, how she can do everything that they can do, about the necessity of fulfillment, the equal division of household chores, how her last boyfriend respected her opinion and treated her much nicer, and how her relationship with her mother is improving.
- the two Japanese men have faxed Tokyo and are waiting for instructions.

• the two Australian men beat each other senseless for the Australian woman, who is checking out all the other men, after calling them both "bloody wankers".

- both New Zealand men are searching the island for sheep.
- the Irish have divided the island into North and South and set up a distillery. They're not really worried about the sex as long as the English are not getting any.

We knew our women players were a game lot, but just how game wasn't clear until a short conversation with star prop Michelle Mathews at the Soaks game. In the course of a couple of sentences Michelle told your humble editor "Give me meat", "We go where the men go" and "I'll have your balls on a platter". What a woman!

A blonde starts a new job as a primary school counselor. On her first day she notices a little boy standing by himself on the side of a playing field while the rest of the kids enjoy a game of soccer at the other. She asks him if he is alright. The boy says he is but a little while later she walks past and notices him still standing alone on the side of the field. "Little boy," she says sensitively, "Why are you standing here all by yourself?" The little boy looks at her like she is an idiot.

"I'm the goalie," he says.
